CCA is listening to community feedback

The Civil Contingencies Authority would like to assure the Bailiwick Community that it is listening to feedback, comments and concerns following the announcement of pre-travel testing on Friday.

The decision to bring in this measure was made with the intention of mitigating the risk to our community, as the prevalence of Covid-19 cases remains so high among neighbouring jurisdictions.

Details of exactly what this new testing scheme will mean for travellers in all different circumstances will be published in the coming days. This will aim to clarify what will be expected of you if you are travelling for leisure, medical, or business reasons.

If you are travelling imminently, we understand you may have questions about how this affects you, so please get in touch and we will do our best to help. If you're not travelling in the immediate future though, we would encourage you to wait for the detail to be published to find the answers you need to help ease the pressure on our helplines.
